BARBOURVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1920

ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS A YEAR IN ADVANCE

CENSUS SHOWS GAIN FOR BARBOURVILLE

Fifteen Per Cent Since 1910

The Bureau of the Census which this week reported to the Mountain Advocate, gives the population of Barbourville as 1,877. The 1900 population was 1,010 and that of 1910, 1,633, a gain since the last census of 244 people and a gain since 1900 of 867—an increase of nearly 16 per cent.

The population of Knox County is 24,172, a gain of about 9 per cent over 1910, with a population of 22,126 and of 39 per cent since 1900 when the population was 17,872. However as the county was redistricted between 1900 and 1910 no proper comparison can be made with 1900.

That part of Corbin city which is in Knox County has a population of 1,198 as against 854 in 1910, and 511 in 1900.

TO BE PAID FOR ADVICE

It was thru the activity of Congressman Patrick H. Kelley of Michigan that the bill was passed permitting the detail of United States naval officers to foreign governments who request it for the purpose of securing expert advice in naval matters. The measure is now a law and provides that such officers may receive compensation from the government to which they are assigned in addition to their pay in the American navy, and that their period of foreign service shall be credited as to longevity, retirement and other purposes the same as service in our own ships. It is understood that officers have already been sent to certain South American countries in accordance with the terms of the legislation.

CIVIC LEAGUE MEETING

The Civic League met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. W. F. Amls on Pine Street. After roll call and the reading of the minutes several communications were read and a report of the play "The Microbe of Love" was made showing that a deposit of somewhat over forty dollars had been made as a result.

Some time was spent in discussing the condition of the streets that are paved and in trying to arrive at some method by which the League can be of help to the City Council in accomplishing the removal of accumulated dirt and sand which is becoming very unsightly.

During a very pleasant social hour the hostess served delicious cake and ice cream.

The next meeting of the League will be held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, October 14th, with Mrs. Read P. Black as hostess at the residence of Mrs. W. R. Hughes, (the J. M. Robison home,) on High St.

Charlie Mitchell resumed his job at the L. & N. depot Friday following a long layoff due to being struck by lightning while operating the phone. Charlie says we may possibly see him up town wearing insulated shoes when the lightning striking season opens again.

The Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church held its regular meeting on Friday afternoon, Oct. 1st, at the home of Mrs. Nan Hoskins on Main Street. Twenty-three ladies were present. The new president, Miss Gertrude Black, took charge of the meeting.

As this was the first meeting in the new conference year, the completion of last year's work and plans for the new year were discussed. After reports from the various committees of last year, the president appointed new committees.

As suggested by Mrs. James Miller a rising vote of thanks was given to the editor of the Mountain Advocate for so kindly printing the notices of the meetings during the past year.

Mrs. Russell Kaufman became a member of the Society.

The following ladies were visitors: Mrs. Joe Hopper, Mrs. Dave Wilson, Mrs. Arthur Clark, Mrs. James Wilson, and Mrs. Hammonds.

After adjournment the hostess was assisted by Mesdames Dave and James Wilson in serving delicious refreshments.

The next hostess for the Aid will be Mrs. H. H. Owens, Oct. 15th.

Mrs. H. H. Owens and Mrs. J. R. Tuggle spent two days in Knoxville this week. While in Middlesboro they had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. J. A. Gray who was a Barbourville resident last year.

AND ALL WENT MERRY AS A MARRIAGE HELL

Mass Meeting A Great Success

Monday night, Oct. 4th, Republicans—men and women—Democrats—men and women—and possibly some Socialists attended the Republican rally which was a big success. Trained singers rendered America and the Star Spangled Banner in which the big audience joined heartily. Hon. John M. Tinsley presided over the meeting.

Mrs. Fred Hurnum, the first speaker on the program, spoke on the various lines along which women may work in politics to be most effective.

Robert W. Cole, who is an excellent speaker as he talks in an easy conversational manner which makes the audience feel as tho they are listening to a neighbor, told of the waste of the present administration. He said that while spruce, which enters largely into the manufacture of aeroplanes, was offered to the government at $110 per 1,000 feet the contract was given to Biorke, the warden of a penitentiary and he paid $802.00 per 1,000 feet. A number of patriots had offered to supply the spruce without profit.

The speaker mentioned the fact that while our boys were dying for the lack of aeroplanes, those in charge of the building of them were experimenting with the new Liberty motor. Instead of buying motors already tested and proved.

After building 1,600 planes, with 600 changes, they were scrapped. During this time the Germans were using thousands of planes against our boys. One of the men in charge of the work, on being asked the cause of the delay, said "I don't know a damned thing about it."

The extravagance of the administration is largely responsible for the fact that Liberty Bonds are worth 85c to 90c on the dollar.

Mrs. J. W. Hughes said she was not a speaker, but also, she was no slacker. After urging all to register she urged women to do their part. If the polls are not decent for women they are not decent for men. Mrs. Hughes said the women of the Blue Grass and Western Kentucky will turn out and vote and she urged the women of the mountains to do the same. "Don't let them say we can't get out to vote."

Paying her respects to the league of nations, Mrs. Hughes said that while she would be willing, even tho with heartache, to give up her son to fight for his country she would object to doing so when some foreign country had voted war on us. Mrs. Hughes objected to Great Britain having six votes to the United States one.

Judge J. D. Tuggle, in a speech bristling with humor, said that fifty years ago woman's suffrage was looked upon as one of the jokes of the day, as was prohibition. Today, both are accomplished facts. The speaker said that if any person asks how a lady can vote, the answer is, "Just the same as a man." The responsibility, privilege and duty have now been passed on to the women and it is only a question as to how they will use the vote. As American citizens, he urged the most earnest thought and study of the questions of the day. Government changes as the people change. There will always be burning issues to confront us and responsibility to hand down to future generations.

When it comes to thinking, do your own, draw on your recollection don't be led off by promises. Look to the history of your country as one of your guides.

While President Wilson promised to keep as out of war, the biggest thing he did keep us out of was sugar. Eight years ago he promised to lower prices. "It is a good thing I don't cuss. There would be a blue streak in the house." Before the war one could get a good family steak for 25cts. Now one can't get enough to bait the mouse trap. Then we had low prices and good times. In six months after the Democrats came in the railroad sidings were full of idle cars. They would have been full yet if the devil had not broken loose in Europe.

The war has been over some time and they have made no move to bring down prices.

The speaker predicted a 50,000 majority in Kentucky for the Republican nominees.

Congressman J. M. Robison said he was glad to be able to talk to his neighbors and friends including so many from the opposite party. The speaker said he believes every man and woman was a things done right and tho it is hard to hear one's party leaders criticized it is good for the country.

Mr. Robison said that down in Floyd, Jessop and in Louisville the Democrats are saying the most tremendous issue is the League of Nations. In the Blue Grass they are chiefly appealing to people's prejudices, stating that with the election of Harding we shall have mixed schools, churches, trains and that that the whites and colored people will mix up and marry. He then shattered such nonsense.

Mr. Robison said the first official vote he cast in Washington was for the realization of woman's suffrage. There are millions of foreigners in our cities with no knowledge of what it means to be Americans. The good American mothers will lift up the meaning of the word. If you here do not take a hand there are a lot of women in the cities who do not care for your home, church or land, who will.

"When you vote for the things you think best you have done a good day's work."

Senator Heckman was first for the League of Nations as presented by Mr. Wilson. His last vote was against it. It is you Democrats who still stand by it that are wrong.

Tom Watson of Georgia ran on an anti-administration ticket and beat both opponents. He stated over his signature that but for the nullish obstinacy of President Wilson, we should have had peace long ago.

If there is any class of men who know what the league of nations means it is the U. S. Senators. They have heard it discussed and rediscussed. Seventy-six out of 96 U. S. Senators are against the league of nations as insisted on by Pres. Wilson. Out of forty-seven Democratic Senators, twenty-seven are against the so called Wilson League.

Congressman Robison then analyzed the voting power of the various nations and conclusively proved that the United States would be at the mercy of the British Empire and that its vote could be nullified by Liberia.

He also stated that under the treaty as it now stands we should be called upon to defend the present frontiers of any and every nation that is a party to the league, whether just or not. This guarantee can be given in only two ways. By American money and the lives of American boys. "Do you want it?" he asked.

Those who heard Congressman Robison felt the earnestness of his Americanism and also felt that they can trust his good sense and patriotism to the limit.

NO CHANGE IN BULK PRICES

The Catron Garage is in receipt of a wire from the Buick Company stating that they have no intention of changing the price of Buick cars for the season of 1921, but in the event of an unexpected reduction of labor and material affecting the cost and justification of a lowering of the list prices of Buick cars prior to May 1st, 1921, they refund to every purchaser during that period the amount of such reductions.

"EXPANSION CONVENTION"

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Herndon have returned from St. Louis where they were in attendance at the 17th annual International "Expansion Convention" of the Rexall Druggists. Four days were spent at the Missouri metropolis, and the visit was pronounced most pleasant.

Beside attending the business sessions of the convention, held at the Coliseum, the delegates were the recipients of many social invitations and entertainment affairs were numerous. Grand opera, fashion shows, smokers, river rides and barbecues were on the program which terminated with a musicale and dance "atop the world"—on the roof of the United Drug Co.'s new $7,000, 000 plant at which 300 theatrical performers appeared.

What St. Louis thinks of the United Drug Co. is shown by an editorial which appeared in a St. Louis paper. It said, in part:

"Every Rexallite delegate here this week has an interest in St. Louis' prosperity amounting to at least $500. This comes because each delegate is a share holder in the United Drug Co., which has just opened its new plant here. The prosperity of the shareholders shows the wonders of the co-operative system as exemplified by Louis K. Liggett, president. St. Louis welcomes the Rexallite delegates and hopes the city will extend to them its best hospitality."

SLY JIM

An example of Governor Cox's campaign chicanery, to say nothing of his insulting attitude toward his country, is brought to light by the New York Sun's article written by its correspondent traveling with the Cox entourage.

At Salt Lake City, Utah, after characterizing the Republican slogan, America First, as synonymous with the Prussian "Deutschland uber alles," Mr. Cox hauded out to the newspaper correspondents "as a stenographic report of the incident" the speech with these words added: "America first in the progress of the world; America the leader in the readjustment now at hand. What sort of America first could you have with Mexico, Turkey and Russia as our associates as proposed by the reactionary candidate?"

Mr. Cox's soap-box oratory keeps him pretty busy amplifying and correcting.

Mr. Cox had plenty of time to drive a race horse on the track at the Minnesota State Fair, but he was too busy to spend a couple of hours telling the Senate investigating Committee what he knew about the alleged campaign contributions of the Republicans. He doesn't even take himself seriously.

Franklin & Cannon are steadily increasing their business, due to the excellent stock of goods they are handling and thru the fact that they let the people of Knox County know that they appreciate their business. Collie L. Franklin says advertising certainly pays, both in the Edison Phonograph department and in the dry goods department.

HARDING STOCK IS AWAY UP

Last presidential election the Rexall Drug Stores of the United States were able to forecast the result of the election down to the number of electors. This year they are putting on the same kind of a show vote but with many more voters. The following is the vote for Harding and Cox according to the latest returns received Wednesday morning.

North West and Middle States:
Harding 1,055,985
Cox 1,055,985
Electoral College vote, Harding 354
Cox, 3.

Southern States:
Harding 1,055,985
Cox 1,055,985
Electoral College vote, Harding 87
Cox, 167.

Kentucky:—
Harding 6,676
Cox 6,676

This is excellent when considered that the Mountain people have not voted in any previous and indicates a sweep of Kentucky for the Republicans.

Summary of National Vote:
Male voters, Harding 1,055,985
Female 1,055,985
Male vote, Cox, 1,055,985
Female 1,055,985

Combined electoral vote:
Harding 441

Necessary to elect 270

However, do not make any lawing an excuse for saying you were on election day. Let's get the biggest Republican vote in history for Ernst and Robison as well as for Harding.

RETURN OF SEIZED PROPERTY

Senator Knute Nelson, of Minnesota was instrumental in getting thru the Senate the bill for the return of certain people property taken by the Alien Property Custodian. A result of the Versailles treaty, former Germans are now citizens of Poland, Czechoslovakia, and thru the annexation of Austria, etc. The property of such persons was taken over soon after the outbreak of this country in the war, but manifestly it should be returned to them. The measure provides for that return. Mr. Nelson had secured the approval of the Senate to the bill and the bill was signed by the president and is now a law.

OUR JOB

The league of nations is nothing more or less than a scheme to get the United States to fight the battles of Europe until such time as those nations have recuperated from their exhaustion of the World War.
Without the United States the league is impotent. With the United States the league would at once become vital—vital with the blood and wealth of America.

SERVARE FIDEM

The way in which the women of the country are supporting candi-

the Senate or House shows that they are broad minded enough to judge a their opinions from consideration of an isolated vote he may have cast.

The faith in women, which the Re-demonstrated when they bestowed placed.

ious countries in Eastern Europe in which the Red Cross has been and is

"Accurate figures are necessarily not to be obtained in the present confusion, but at the same time certain broad facts stand out. Economic reconstruction is proceeding slowly but is evident when compared with the conditions which immediately followed the Armistice in 1918. In general, food supply is improving problem as it was a year ago. It is clear, however, that in Poland and Austria the coming winter will find a marked shortage and widespread suffering is certain.

"General relief must be continued
in those countries and at certain is reached. There is, however, one problem that overshadows all others

and which the world must be brot

less outside assistance is given.

Louisville Man's Troubles End
After Taking Tanlac And He Gains Fifteen Pounds.

"I have actually gained fifteen pounds in weight since I started taking Tanlac," said Chalmers L. Hol-

Louisville, Ky.

"Two and a half years ago I commenced suffering from indigestion.
My appetite was completely gone,
and even when I did force down a little something it would lie like a rock in my stomach, turn sour and bloat me up with gas until I was
as tight as a drum.

"I had awful cramps in my stomach after meals. I would roll and toss in the bed all night long without sleeping a wink. I kept going from bad to worse until finally I stopped work for two weeks, thinking a rest would help me; but did not get any better.

"About this time I read a statement in a newspaper and decided to give it a trial. Before I had taken all of the first bottle my improvement was simply remarkable. While I have taken only seven bottles all my troubles are completely gone. It has been over a month since I stopped taking Tanlac but I can eat a good, hearty meal of onions cabbage meat, potatoes, or just anything I want and never have a sign of indig-

HARDING—THE EDITOR

Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee for President, is thoroughly familiar with the imposing stone and can "make-up" rapidly and skillfully. Here he is shown "making-up" forms in the composing room of his newspaper, the Marion (O.) Star.

A DAY WITH SENATOR HARDING

Calm, Steady, Determined, the American Who Is Leading
the Republican Party to Victory Goes About the Business of the Campaign in His Modest Office in Marion.

By WILLIAM HOSTER.

The American people will decide.
of course. If they can visualize the vital principle which is at stake—the spirit which is at once the keystone and the mainspring of the campaign
upon which the nation has entered,
there can be no doubt of the result.

It isn't a thing that can be carried about the country, and exhibited from the rear end of a Pullman car. It is wholly apart from the red fire, blurring bands and stamp oratory of old-fashioned campaigns. The issue, in short, goes deep down to that principle which has been the mainspring of the national life since the days of Lexington and Concord; and the patriotic citizen, Republican and Democrat
alike, by taking counsel with himself,
will find it imbedded in his own heart.

Here in Marion, O., you get a concrete exposition of that vital principle. It is good to come to Marion and get the true perspective. You are brought anew, here, to the realization that the country is in process of electing a chief executive to guide the distresses of 120,000,000 people for the four years ensuing from March 4 next; that the very serious business of bringing about what a European observer described as "a revolution by due process of law," is going forward with a proper regard for the dignity and importance of the task.

Scene Entirely Appropriate.

Your first impression is of the fitness of Marion as the scene for the enactment of such a chapter in American history. It is a quiet little country town, for all its boasted industrial activity; and when you approach the Harding residence, one among many
in its simplicity and attractiveness, you feel it is quite in keeping with events that from this typical American home there should come a modest, dignified and capable, upstanding American upon whom the choice of his fellow citizens should fall to uphold the honor and traditions of the nation.
This conviction grows when you meet the man. He is typical of the successful business man—of the hundreds of thousands of successful Americans who have accumulated a competence through the ordinary channels which are open to all hard working, straightforward American boys.

Meet him, now. He has established an office in the home of George Christian, Jr., his secretary, which adjoins
the Harding house—and this is typical; chief and secretary live side by side, each owning his own modest home. And by the way, these executive offices are illuminating as to the kind of a man it is whom the Republican party has made its standard-bearer in this epoch-making campaign.

Every room in the house is given over to the business in hand. The senator's conference room is the Christian chiv-ing room, his private office, where the important conferences are held, is the kitchen. In the living room sits Christian. Elsewhere, from cellar to garden, the staff are at work. No confusion, no disorder, no hectic shouting at the top of one's voice, no running around in circles, pounding of the table, no hurrying, jimmying or billy-ing, with strident denunciations of the other side, and head bashing of the way the opposition candidate is to be beaten into a pulp. Just a thorough, careful, business-like transaction of the business in hand—precisely the way in which we like to think the work of 120,000,000 people will be conducted at the White House after March 4.

Step into the dining room and meet the senator, just at the moment he is reading proof on editorials which are to be printed in his newspaper, the Marion "Star," in the afternoon. The senator stands for everything that is printed in the "Star," and is careful to read what goes into its columns before the paper goes to press. Disposing of the proof sheet, he shakes hands cordially with you, and you are at liberty to size him up.

Mark Him Dependable.

He is somewhat above the average,
of course, because he has already been singled out by the people of Ohio to represent them in the senate. But aside from this: You are at once struck by his balance and his poise.
You mark him as dependable—safe.
There is that in his face, on his brow,
which gives assurance that he is not the sort of a man who will speak without thinking, or act without deliberating. There is reserve force in his bowing, determination in his jaws,
character in his mouth, kindly sympathy in his eyes.

As you listen to him talk here in the Christian dining room, or later, in a speech to a visiting delegation from the front porch of his home, this conviction is strengthened. He doesn't say anything in his office that he wouldn't say out on the porch, nor anything on the porch that he wouldn't adhere to
in all sincerity in his office.

The thing that strikes you at all times—it is the very atmosphere of Marion—is his moderation, his re- straint—the absence of all bombast and exaggeration in his statements, the careful presentation of the issues, the avoidance of all attempt to array one class against the other, the con- viction of the desire, if called to the presidency, to be president of all the people; and, without making any high- sounding promises, to give all of the people the best that is in him.

Avoids Personal Controversy.

Particularly noticeable is his avoidance of personal controversy. Not once since his nomination has Harding referred to a public speech to his opponent. He adheres to the issues.
Not once has he permitted himself to indulge in personal denunciation of his rival.

He is sane. He has fixed convictions as to the moderation and balance which should characterize candidates for the high office of the presidency; departure from which he believes, without doing any good to the candidate who offends, does serve to bring American institutions into contempt.

During the war there was a Harding-kind of man in service as captain on an American merchantman. The time came when the ship was torpedoed; and the captain was put in charge of the tiller on the wheel-
house in which a goodly portion of the crew took refuge. A storm arose, and there was imminent danger that the boat would be swamped in the stern
sheets and the broken, rigid and erect,
his hand locked to the tiller. He said little "Steady!" now and then to the rowers; or "Hold fast; take her head on!" as the boat rose on the crest of a great wave, and then plunged straight down into the trough of the sea. But for twenty-three hours straight-away,
he held fast to the tiller, and he didn't recognize it until he had guided the boat hard and fast on a friendly beach.

Then he got up and stretched and asked for a pipe of tobacco.

Calm, steady, determined and knowing his business, one conceives of the other Harding thus guiding the ship through any storm that may arise, to a safe harbor.

UNION COLLEGE NOTES

The Junior Academy Class of U. C. presents its apologies for its belated appearance in the columns of the Mountain Advocate. It promises a new way section from the Campus for every issue from now on till the end of the school year.

George Ryder, as editor-in-chief, and Jane Keith and Joseph Metcalf as associates will furnish the Notes for the Fall Term.

We are beginning a year that promises to be the best in the history of the school. The enrollment is the largest ever at this time; the spirit of the students is strong and wholesome. The girls' Self-Government Association is re-organized with Thelma Morehead as House-President, Ida Mae Smith as Vice-President and Love Morris as Secretary. The quality of the work they have done thus far is above the standard of previous years and the boys have followed the good example set by the girls and have organized a Student Government for Stevenson Hall. The Executive Committee consists of Capt Daugh Smith, Lieut. Cheslie Franklin, Lieut. Jackie Howard, Lieut. Howard Lacy and Lieut. Darrell Archibald. The study, rising and retiring hours are designated by the huddle and we are expecting a good year during which each one will be able to get in his best work.

Domestic Science and Art Classes have been organized and are making splendid progress under the excellent supervision of Miss Blanche Whittington, of Louisiana, who is considered one of the best in this line in the South and West.

The Gymnasium for which we have been wishing so many long months is finished at last and is the most beautiful building on the Campus besides being one of the best "gyms" in the State. The equipment is complete from the swimming pool and showers in the basement to the running track in the gallery. All students are required to take physical training two periods a week, the boys under Mr. W. B. Trooper and the girls under the direction of Mrs. Jones. Everyone enjoys the "gym."

The parlors of Speed and Stevenson Halls have been made more attractive by the addition of several splendid pieces of furniture of Mission style for Stevenson and dark wicker with tapestry for Speed. All appreciate this pleasant change.

Miss Lillian Jackson made us a short visit on her way to Cincinnati where she will take up a course in Art. Lillian was a College Soph and a girl whose genial nature and strength of character will be missed from our college life.

Mrs. Burd, representative of the State Library Commission, made a visit to our Library Tuesday. She is doing extension work in this section.

Mr. Hauser made us all happy during the recent cold spell by sending the steam promptly surging merrily thru our radiators.

The basket ball season has opened with fine prospects.

The band has organized again for the year under our Prof. Abler. We shall probably have twenty-five or thirty pieces.

The orchestra has also started with a grand display of flashing horns and bristling bows. When we get organized we shall far surpass any previous efforts. When Prof. Abler raises his bow the real efforts and real results follow.

COMMERCIAL RUBBER 100 YEARS OLD

Rubber as an article of commerce is exactly 100 years old.

From humble beginnings, its production in thousands of forms has become so necessary to mankind that it has become one of the greatest world industries and seems destined to develop even more as new uses for it are discovered.

Last year the United States produced $667,204,000 worth of rubber products. Of this total the Good-year Tire & Rubber Company, Akron Ohio, manufactured slightly less than 25 per cent, or more than $168,000,000 worth.

Altho a century old, the rubber industry made little progress for 80 years—the greatest strides having been made in the last two decades.

Some indications of how great an increase has been made in consumption of raw material for rubber products may be seen from the fact that in 1900 the world's production of crude rubber, both wild and cultivated, was but 53,890 long tons, while in 1919 it was 290,000 long tons.

It was in the summer of 1820 when rough lumps of "caoutchouc," as rubber was then known, were constantly arriving in England, but solely as curios. In that same year, Thomas Hancock, an Englishman of Stoke Newington, became impressed by the strange elastic properties of the raw rubber and was amazed that it should be used only for erasing pencil marks. He established a laboratory in his home and after many experiments, fashioned rubber into thin strips for the purpose of keeping stockings and gloves in position and also for keeping pockets from being picked.

Hancock was beset by many obstacles. The rubber strips had to be attached by needle and thread—and the rubber split at each needle hole. When he started in business with Macintosh to "waterproof" cloth, he found that tailors insisted on sewing the cloth, which allowed rain to sweep thru—and his trade suffered.

Doctors argued that these "waterproofs" were unhealthy because they induced perspiration and brought on colds. Hancock later triumphed over all his difficulties and built up a large rubber business.

The centenary celebration was held this summer in London when employees of Hancock's rubber company made an excursion in motor cars—on rubber tires. —Goodyear News Service.

Torpid Liver

Black-Draught "has no equal for headache, sour stomach, torpid liver and feverish colds," declares Mrs. Annie Whitmore, of Gate City, Va. "It is easy to take and does not gripe, as a lot of medicines do," she adds. "It is good to take in a hot tea for colds, or can be taken in a dry powder. I can't say enough for Black-Draught and the sickness it has saved us."

Thedford's BLACK-DRAUGHT

has been found a valuable liver medicine, in thousands of homes. "I do not use any other liver medicine," says Mrs. Mary O. Brown, of Europa, Miss. "It is splendid for sour stomach, a bad taste in the mouth or torpid liver. I keep it all the time, use it with the children and feel it has saved us many dollars in doctor bills and many days in bed."

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment Is a Brisk Purgative With Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets that are Nausealess, Safe and Sure.

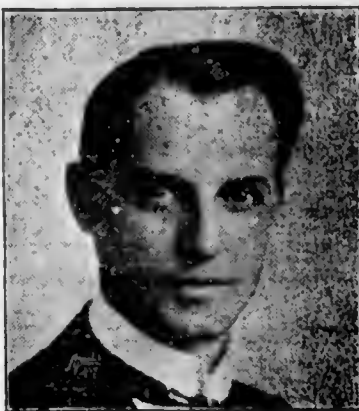

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the new, nausealess calomel tablets called Calotabs, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that a netive liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Druggists sell Calotabs only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you do not find them delightful.—(Adv.)

Which Dance Music is Best?

BY JULIUS LENZBERG

Recently I attended a dancing party. During an intermission, I overheard the conversation of two girls seated near me. One said: "That's a good orchestra, they keep excellent time, but for some reason I'm always tired-out after dancing to an evening of their music. I wonder why?" Haven't you often felt the same way after dancing parties and also "wondered why?" Much of the success of the dance depends upon the orchestra. Much of the success of the orchestra depends upon their complete possession of the most important essential in playing dance music, a perfect rhythm. I believe that we have introduced the perfect rhythm in all dance music we have played for Edison Re-Creations.

JULIUS LENZBERG

The girl at the dancing party became weary before the dance was over, not because she was dancing too much, but because the orchestra members were absolutely mechanical in their playing; they did not "work-up" the dance numbers. It is just as necessary to give proper interpretation to a dance number as to a symphonic or concert selection. Many orchestra leaders have the mistaken idea that a superabundance of "ragging" and loud playing is the proper way to "put over" a dance number. Loud and "raggy" playing continued throughout a dance becomes monotonous and unpleasant to the dancers. The using of little accents here and there, pianissimo strains alternating with crescendos is the proper way to "work-up" a dance number and at the same time retard that tired feeling the girl at the party spoke about.

The majority of dance compositions cannot be most effectively played as written. Therefore you will find that the orchestras you like best are those that feature certain instruments or combinations of instruments in certain strains. The orchestra leader must know how to inspire his men most effectively. The successful playing of dance music is a specialty, so much so, that many of the best known orchestral musicians before the public today are impossible as members of dance orchestras.

The noisy "jazz," so much in vogue during the past few seasons is dying out and I believe that the day of the noisy "Jazz Bands" is a day of the past. However, I do believe that a little bit of "jazz" music introduced where permissible in dance selections is effective and approved by the majority of the followers of the modern dance. The love of the dance is rapidly becoming more universal and I believe that the public is absolutely demanding the best dance music.

(Mr. Lenzberg has a national reputation as a musical director. He is the musical director at Keith's Riverside Theatre, New York City, and is widely noted for his unique direction of the orchestra there. He and his Riverside Orchestra have been featured in summer engagements at "The Breakers," Atlantic City; Hotel Kaaterskill, Catskill Mountains; Morrison's Theatre, Rockaway Beach, New York; Long Beach Hotel on Long Island and with George White's Revue, "Scandale," in New York. His dance Re-Creations are played everywhere where good dance music is in vogue.—Editor's Note.)

"Keep your chin up."

185 audiences tried it this way

MOST people know that the musical enjoyment which they get out of a phonograph depends upon one thing. That thing is the phonograph's realism.

This picture shows the best way to test a phonograph's realism. Miss Betsy Lane Shepherd, the famous soprano, is standing beside the New Edison, and singing in direct comparison with the New Edison's RE-CREATION of her voice.

185 audiences, aggregating more than 100,000 people, have actually heard this comparison. None could distinguish between her living voice and its RE-CREATION.

This is one of the phenomenal records of realism. The New Edison holds all other records of realism, too, because no other phonograph attempts this comparison-test—or could sustain it.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

You try it this way

—the way we use in our store!—the Realism Test! Test the New Edison's Realism against the pleasure you know music can bring.

Tell us what kind of voice or instrument gives you truest musical enjoyment. Listen while we play your favorite on the New Edison. The Realism Test will enable you to gauge whether the New Edison's RE-CREATION gives you all of this enjoyment.

This is your test! It will help you determine what the New Edison's Realism means, in terms of your own musical enjoyment.

Ask for it! The "Personal Favorites" Realism Test.

Another thing to ask about is our Budget Plan. It disposes of the money question, in a way that will appeal to your common sense, and to your pocketbook.

Rheumatism Comes From Tiny Pain Germs

First of all, get it firmly fixed in your mind that all the liniments in the world have no effect whatever on Rheumatism.

A very common form of Rheumatism is caused by millions of tiny disease germs which infect the blood. The one and only sensible treatment, therefore, is one which cleanses the blood of these germs, and rids them entirely out of the circulation.

This is why S.S.S., the greatest known blood purifier is so successful in the treatment of Rheumatism. It is a powerful cleanser of the blood, and will remove the disease germs that cause your Rheumatism, affording relief that is genuine.

S.S.S. is sold by all druggists. Free literature and medical advice can be had by writing to Chief Medical Adviser, 164 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

WHAT you lose thru baking failure must be added to baking costs—it has to be paid for.

Calumet Baking Powder will save you all of that. Because when you use it—there are no failures—no losses. Every baking is sweet and palatable—and stays moist, tender and delicious to the last tasty bite.

That's a big saving—but that isn't all. You save when you buy Calumet and you save when you use it.

Pure in the can—Pure in the baking

It is reasonable in cost and possesses more than the ordinary leavening strength. You pay less and use less. You get the most in purity, dependability and wholesomeness.

In every way—it is the best way to keep down baking costs. That is what has made it the world's biggest selling baking powder—has kept it the favorite of millions of housewives for more than thirty years. Good wholesome bakings can be made only of good materials, no other way, so use only good baking powder and good plain flour (not self-rising flour).

Publication of these official facts has utterly confounded the advocates of Governor Cox's election, who have been making a special plea to the workmen on the basis of his West Virginia speech. The revelations as to Mr. Cox's mobilization of the troops are being compared with the sworn statements of liquor league contributors to his gubernatorial campaign and find in refutation of his statement that "the wets have never contributed one dollar to any of my campaigns." In both cases the point is made that the issue is not as to the merit of his mobilization of the troops, on the one hand, or as to the status of the wet and dry question, on the other hand, but that the real issue is as to the degree of truth and accuracy absolutely necessary in one who seeks to be president of the United States.
